

This annual award is to recognize the author or authors of undergraduate mathematics teaching materials (textbook, lecture notes, computer software, web-based learning materials, video lectures, and others, as approved by the Council on Prizes), hereafter referred to as the "materials". The primary criteria for selection will be ... by the material's impact on undergraduate education in mathematics and/or the mathematical sciences (operations research, statistics, computer science, applied mathematics).

The award was proposed and funded by Daniel (Danny) Solow, Professor in the Department of Operations at the Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University and long-time member of MAA and approved by the Board of Governors on March 27, 2015. The initial value of the award is $3,000, to be presented annually at MAA MathFest. The award will be made without regard to publisher.

@ Please submit this nomination form with the following supporting documents attached to secretary@maa.org. This form is due by \ . If you have any questions, please contact secretary@maa.org. Please include all necessary materials listed below.

V @

Full Name of Nominee(s):
Email Address of Nominee(s):
Institution of Nominee(s):
Complete listing with titles and publication details for the material(s) for which individuals are being recommended:
Full Name of Nominator:	Email Address:	Institution:
Signature of Nominator:	Date: Click or tap to enter a date.

3 Institutions where these Materials have made an impact: For materials to be considered, the nominators must reference faculty at a minimum of three institutions (including your own) where the materials have had a positive impact on students during at least the last three years.

Institution Name	Contact Name	Contact Email	Contact Phone Number

Recommendation Letters: Please include letters from the above contacts detailing how the value of the materials to the students who took the course; in particular, what skills and/or perspectives/attitudes towards the subject matter does the course emphasize and effectively reinforce? Please attach the letters to the email to secretary@maa.org.